Events and excursions

WEDNESDAY 26 JUNE 2024

Wednesday includes a full day of excursions:

FORCE TECHNOLOGY

A guided tour of Force Technology (DMI) in Lyngby usually includes a visit to the towing tank, the wind tunnels and the state-of-the-art bridge simulator, depending on the circumstances of the day at Force Technology.

MB SHIPBROKERS

The next stop will be MB Shipbrokers where the staff will introduce the company and their daily tasks.

MAERSK MUSEUM

The museum, which is not open to the public, is located next to the Maersk Headquarters. The visit to the museum is a visual tour of the origins and development of one of the world's largest international shipping conglomerates.

PORT OF COPENHAGEN

We have arranged a tour of the port and canal.

COPENHAGEN ON YOUR OWN

The beauty of Copenhagen is that the town centre is largely traffic free, which, coupled with the fact that most of the streets and buildings are laid out according to the medieval street plan, makes its sights and attractions very accessible on foot. You can find a multitude of world-class museums and galleries; streets full of specialist shops; dozens of restaurants; and a tempting array of nightlife.

The city's main shopping area is centred on the longest pedestrian street in Europe, Strøget, stretching from the Town Hall Square to Kongens Nytorv where you find Magasin du Nord, the biggest department store in Scandinavia. A visit to the charming 17th century streets surrounding Strøget is also worthwhile.

Tivoli was founded in 1843 and was inspired by the so called romantic pleasure gardens of Europe. Romantic in the sense that they were landscaped according to the English tradition of forming naturalistic ornaments, as opposed to the French style with its strong, geometric lines. Tivoli's founder, Georg Carstensen (1812-57) had seen pleasure gardens on his journeys through Europe, and in 1841 he applied to King Christian VIII for permission to establish and run his "Tivoli & Vauxhall" for five years. Since then, people from all over the world have enjoyed Tivoli. Tivoli is located in downtown Copenhagen right across from the Central Station. There are plenty of rides, restaurants, gardens, theatres, live music and entertainment – there is something for everyone.

All participants are encouraged to explore, relax and have a great time. But don't forget to find your way back to the hotel to get a good night's sleep in preparation for Thursday's full, exciting day of presentations and case studies!!

THURSDAY 27 JUNE 2024

M/S MARITIME MUSEUM OF DENMARK

A bus will take us to Helsingør where we will visit the Danish Maritime Museum on Wednesday afternoon.

Follow the sloping bridges down to the old dry dock between Kronborg Castle and The Culture Yard and enter an underground museum designed by the internationally renowned architecture company BIG (Bjarke Ingels Group). We will experience a colourful world with a whole range of exhibitions telling the story of Denmark as one of the world's leading shipping nations – of the past and present. The museum's maritime collections are presented in evocative and dramatic exhibitions, with films projected directly onto the architecture of the building.

Welcome to a universe where you can see, listen to and actively experience the maritime world.

Our lives depend on shipping. The world depends on shipping. It always has. Via shipping and the trade and cultural exchanges it is part of, Denmark has always been connected to the rest of the world. This is the history and contemporary life that unfolds at M/S Maritime Museum of Denmark.

The architecture and exhibitions aim for new horizons, making the museum relevant, inclusive and accessible to everyone. The architecture of the museum is iconic, guiding visitors through a continuous flow of spaces expanding across gently sloping floors at different levels before crossing the old dock. The contemporary architecture and the deep outdoor space of the open dock invite you to visit our café and enjoy the surroundings and the wide range of diverse cultural events created with our neighbours under the umbrella of "Culture Harbour Kronborg".

The exhibitions are developed in collaboration with the exhibition designers Kossmann.dejong from Amsterdam. The story of each exhibition is powerfully expressed through film and a set design that almost wordlessly highlight and add perspective to the many exhibits on display.

Your visit to the museum is enhanced by interactive installations and games, where together with others you can play and learn. The exhibitions present a fleet of merchant ships and fleet of personal stories linked to the museum's fantastic collections from the past four centuries – putting Danish shipping and navigation of the past and present in the global perspective.

Through thematic highlights we're whirled into the challenges of the oceans faced by those at sea, through the temptations of the ports, and back home at the heart of their families. We explore the myths of the life of the sailor, experience the role of the captain at the helm between the Danish colonies of the 1700s, and sit behind the desk of the shipping executive conducting world trade today. We follow the route of the many products in our supermarkets that have travelled thousands of nautical miles to reach us.

The permanent exhibitions are supplemented by changing, thematic exhibitions and our new education department, with activities for schoolchildren and anyone else interested in learning more about shipping and navigation through our teaching programmes.

FRIDAY 28 JUNE 2024

On Friday evening, we have arranged a group dinner at Restaurant Jægerhuset.

RESTAURANT JÆGERHUSET

The bus will depart from the KolleKolle side of the lake at 18:30.

Restaurant Jægerhuset was built in 1896. Ever since, it has been possible to be served a meal in the restaurant. Since the very first BIMCO Summer Shipping School in 1999, Jægerhuset has set the scene for group dinners.

The dress code will be smart casual.

Other practical information

DRESS CODE

Business casual during the course, and smart casual for dinners.

WEATHER

Be prepared for a little bit of rain, as the summers in Denmark can be unpredictable. Hopefully, there will be a lot of sunshine! Daytime outdoor temperatures during the summer months can get up to 28C (82F) on sunnier days with some humidity. Please note that there is no air conditioning in the hotel rooms, as it is not typical in Denmark to have air conditioning – most of the year it's not needed! We recommend you to bring a light jacket and a sweater or cardigan for the cooler evenings.

About the Summer Shipping School

The backbone of the BIMCO Summer Shipping School is the case studies, where participants are divided into groups to find practical solutions to the realistic situations presented. As in real life, there is rarely one fixed answer to a situation and the discussions between the groups and tutors form an important part of the learning objectives.

On the last day, it all comes together in a full day exercise “Game of Fixtures” where the participants compete to fix ships and cargoes using all the knowledge they have gained over the previous days to get the best commercial results! Several unique events, including specially organised dinners, a visit to the M/S Maritime Museum of Denmark, brokerage firm for a presentation on broking, Force Technology for a look at bridge simulators, topped up by a boat tour of the Copenhagen canals and port.

The BIMCO Summer Shipping School is residential and the participants stay at the conference hotel for the duration of the course. The “boot camp” atmosphere is a very important part of the programme. Therefore, the hotel accommodation, excursions and all meals – except for Wednesday evening – are included in the fee.
